markably fine. The wind was strong from the west and sometimes veered a little south. The birds were fast and aided by the wind they sometimes were like lightning from the traps. They were mostly left quartering driven. The ground was covered with snow and the sun's rays reflecting on it made the light strong and particularly hard on the shooters.

The first event was the New Year's Day Cup. This was a handlean event, and each shooter put up $15, which was divided in the usual way. Eleven competed for the trophy. Robert Welch, the Everton crack, was the first to shoot and he killed a left quarterer, using both larrels. Bradley, the next man, also killed eight of the eleven scored, and Thomas, Browne and Stafford missed and had to retire, Wilson got out in the second round, Capt. Money and Williams in the third Jones in the fourth and Harold Money in the fifth. Smith remained until the seventh round, when a fast driver got away from him, and Welch and Bradley were the only ones left. These two were in fine form, but the birds were so vigorous that each man used his second barrel. Welch drew a hard bird in the tenth round. It was a left quartering driver. The gun barked quickly and, although the bird was hit hard, it succeeded in getting over the boundary and then fell dead, Bradley killed his elevent and won the cup, Welch took second immey, 30 per cent of the entrance fees, and W. W. Smith third money, and 20 per cent.

Thirteen shooters tried for the January Cup, a handleap, and for the privilege of shooting each man contributed $10. Bob Welch started the ball going again. In the first round Brown and Capt, Money missed and retired. Wilson went out in the third round, Smith and Welch in the sixth and Jones in the eighth. Harold Money, Thomas, Williams, Bradley, Stafford, Emerson and Hookins were all shooting well, and it was not until the filteenth round that Money and Stafford retired. Williams missed his eighteenth bird and in the next round Emerson and Hookins lost hard ones. Emerson's, a driver, tell dead out of hounds. This left Thomas and Bradley in the race. Thomas in the twenty-first round got a fast driver, but he lost it. The bird fell dead out of bounds. Bradley killed his next and won the cup.

The rest of the day was devoted to miss and out "sweeps." They were divided by Welch and Bradley, Harold Money, Capt. Money and Bradley and Williams and Bradley. The latter shooter divided the money in six. The scores follow:

G. S. McAlpin Wins the Westmir ter Kennel Club's New Year's Cup.

Babylon, Jan. 1.-The Westminister Kennel Club held its New Year's pigeon shoot to-day. Besides the members of the club many prominent society men from New York were present as guests and some of them participated in the sport. The thin layer of snow that covered the ground did not in any way interfere with the shooting. The three events which took place before luncheon were well contested and interesting, but the two handleaps which came off after the spread had been served were the features of the day. The opening "sweep," entrance fee $5, was won by C. M. Chapin and G. S. McAlpin, each having the same score, The Allowance Handicap was for a cup offered by the club. An entrance fee of $10 was charged. J. P. W. Stuart walked away with the cup, having a clean score, 7. The last shoot before luncheon was a miss-and-out affair which was won by M. G. B. Magoun and C. M. Chapin, each with a total of 5. The New Year's Cup and an even distance miss-and-out handicap were competed for after luncheon. Each of these cost $10 to enter. The New Year's Cup was won by McAlpin, who had a clean score of 13 kills. McCook was a close second. The even distance contest also was won by McAlpin. The scores:

Caps—Seven Miss and Out Sweepstakes.

Dan Bradley won the two big shooting events at the Carteret Gun Club yesterday and also broke the record for the grounds by killing fifty-nine birds straight. The day was celebrated by a contest for the New Year's Day cup and another trophy called the January cup. After these events had been disposed of several sweepstakes were shot and the members did not leave the grounds until it was too dark to see the birds.

A typical New Year's luncheon was served in the cosy clubhouse and after Bradley had won he filled the silver cup with champagne and the members drank "A Happy New Year" many times. It was not a good day to make big scores and so Bradley's shooting was remarkably line. The wind was strong from the members of the Brooklyn Gun Club held an all day shoot on the grounds at Union tain Their Members With a Luncheon. The new year was ushered in with appropriate ceremonies at the principal athletic clubs of this city. The New York A. C. which always provides a collation for its members on New Year's Day, fairly distanced its previous record yesterday and the table spread in the dining room from 1 to 6 o'clock in the after noon surpassed, in decorative features, the efforts of all preceding chefs. One of the pieces that attracted most attention was the statue of the retiring president, Gen. Thomas L. Watson. The main figure surmounted a number of others that represented members of the club made famous during the past year. Among them were Charles E. Knoblauch, one of Roosevelt's Rough Riders, and Major Frank Keck, who led his command and Major Frank Keck, who led his command in the charge at Santiago. A more or less accurate representation of the work of Admiral Dewey's squadron at Manila also appealed to the patriotic sentiment of the members, while the excellent portraiture of John Flanagan, the club's champion hammer thrower, in sugar was one of the most admired pieces on the tables. Other objects that attracted attention were a hunting scene, two Chicago sports, the floral fountain and hockey. Nearly 2,000 members dropped in during the day to exchange the compliments of the season and several speeches were made on the parlior floor in response to the calls for remarks from prominent members. Among those who responded were tien. Watson, James Whitely, former President, and Bartow S. Weeks.

One of the causes for satisfaction was the posting of a cablegram from Charles H. Sherrill, who is now in Europe, accepting the nomination for captain. The time for posting opposition candidates expired with the old year, and no other name was added to that of Walter S. Wilson, who will run independently for Governor.

A lunch was also spread at the Knicker-
